

Summer Poetry at The Laboratory

Poetic Turns

Weekend Workshop

20-21ST JANUARY 2018

Why do poems change course? And how? What can you gain by taking your poem off in a different direction?

From the volta to the specula, the ironic to the emblem, join poet Joanna Preston for a two-day intensive workshop mixing reading and discussion with writing exercises designed to put what we learn into practice.

Suitable for those with some previous experience writing poetry.
